

throwing up and is obviously dehydrated) Furthermore, I definitely shouldnt be getting water taken away from me for the actions of another inmate, and as a pre trial detainee with no disciplinary issues. I am already locked in Solitary Confinement/Segregation, and have not been out of my cell in close to 50+ hours. My mental state is already being severely effected, and this is just adding more to that. Being locked in here is already making me go crazy, and not having access to water is causing my anxiety to rise at extremely fast levels. What if I dont get to drink water the rest of the night until tomorrow? The thought of that makes my head hurt, and gives me great sadness to know im being treated this way. Why are you punishing me like this, when all Ive been is nothing but respectful, nice, and courteous to officers and jail staff here? Please take me back to C2B, where I am already approved to go. All of this over not signing a form. This is not justice. This is punishment without a need for guilt.
